PASS THIS AROUND YOUR OFFICE

Be sure to pass this newsletter around to other people in your office. We try to have articles of interest for our members.

EXPERIAN IS NOW ON THE INTERNET

If you would like to get set up to pull reports over the internet, please call us.

If you have applied for internet access and you have not received your authorization after two weeks, please call us. We will check on the status of your application.

COLLECTION REPORTS

Experian offers a unique report, originally written for collection agencies, but many creditors are using it to help locate lost accounts.

In addition to providing you the current and previous addresses, the report contains special indicators to highlight critical aspects of the debtor's situation. These indicators include:

An "available amount" indicating potential assets.

Public record information identifying debtors who have filed for bankruptcy and may require special action.

Consumer identification information

Demographics:

Phone #s

DL #s

Home ownership

Additional address information

Employer information

Tradeline and inquiry information

Type of account

Status of account

Amount available on rev.

accounts

Public record information

Subscriber phone numbers or addresses, if the phone number is not available

Optional features are FACS+ (fraud detection), credit scoring and Credit Trends.

FEES FOR 2001

Enclosed is our fee schedule for 2001. If you have any questions or if you want to add any of our credit products, either call or e-mail us.

SPEAKERS

If the service organization you belong to, or your local high school needs a speaker to talk about credit, loans, interest rates or collections, just give us a call. We have two programs, one for service organizations and one for high schools.
